Sir Malcolm Sargent--

Northolt-- and leaving for a well-earned holiday in Spain is Sir Malcolm Sargent, the popular conductor and idol of music lovers.

After the last Prom Concert of the Coronation Season, Sir Malcolm has temporarily laid down his baton. (Spund)-

And now a rest from pen and baton into the sunshine of Sunny Spain.

Nurses Uniform-

London-- where at the Red Cross Headquarters- the new uniform for nurses is displayed- which has been designed by Norman Hartnell- the Queen's dressmaker.

[redacted] These attractive outfits are in blue- for members of the Red Cross Society- and in red for the officers.

The walking-out dress, (SHORTER BY ½ INCH THAN THE OLD STYLE), brings the feminine touch. Once again, there are two different grades, giving the "human" element to a grand body of volunteers.

Queen Salote--

SYDNEY and arriving on her way home from the Coronation, Queen Salote of Tonga recalls her pleasure at meeting for the first time QUEEN ELIZABETH AND PRINCE PHILIP.
