SPEECH BY HORE-BELISHA.

L/V

S/V Talks. A bill of first-class importance is now on its way through Parliament. It puts the Minister of Transport in sole control of all the trunk roads in Britain. [These are the roads indispensable alike in peace and war which connect the great manufacturing centres with the principal ports. These roads, 4,500 miles of them, are now in the control of 84 different county councils.]

S/V talks. [When they come under my charge it will be possible to take central and unified action on them for the first time. We shall make them a pattern for the world to follow.] They will be spacious - they will be divided into separate carriage-ways so that opposing streams of traffic cannot clash. There will be cycle tracks and footpaths, and they will be framed in trees and shrubs.

L/V talks. We shall eliminate crossroads wherever possible and have either roundabouts or flyover junctions, sometimes of the cloverleaf pattern. We shall spend what is necessary for these purposes - many millions of pounds. ~~I hope they will add to your convenience and pleasure in travel and not least to your safety.~~

SCU. I hope they will add to your convenience and pleasure in travel and not least to your safety.

3 CU. I hope they will add to your convenience and pleasure in travel and not least to your safety.
