

SEAVACS 'TELL MUM' OVER US RAIDO.

.....

Issue No. 1004..11..10..'40.
Title: Delighted To Meet You.
Discs: Nil.
Lines: Stagg.
Voice: Mellor.

Now thoroughly at home in America our little evacuees went to a broadcasting studio to speak on the air to their homes in Britain. It was a big thrill for the youngsters to answer the questions and know that their fathers and mothers were listening, 3,000 miles away:

CU
SV

Tell me something about your daddy will you?

Boy: He's rector of a big parish in the East End of London, in Stepney. I hope that he, and my mummy are listening.

CU

Q. Are you having a good time here in the U.S.
Well we certainly hope so too.

A. Yes Very.

Girl Evacuee Being Questioned:

What was your first impression of this country? What did you like most?

Girl: Drug stores.

SV

Q. Why, honey?

A. Because they have ice-cream in them.

CU

Q. Are you happy here in U.S.?

A. Fairly!

Q. Say something to your folks back home,

They'll be listening to you
but say something to them.

Q. Well, I hope you're not dead yet!

Q. I hope so too.

Older Girl Questioned:

CU

What did you like about food that you didn't get in England?
