Australian warplanes are on the way. The Dominions are putting all they've got into reinforcing the R.A.F. Australia is sending airmen too. Ready to go overseas the cadets were addressed by Air Commodore Cole.

Kits were hastily completed as sailing hour approached. The airmen were first going to Canada to complete their training under the great Empire Air Scheme. The picked youth of British possessions overseas is earning its wings. These men of Australia, aged between 18 and 28, already had 50 hours flying experience before they embarked.

The moment came to say farewell and set out on the liberty crusade. Where it will take them, how long they'll be away, who knows? A company of Women Auxiliaries travelled with them.

Just as the Australian Government voluntarily lined up with Britain against Germany, so the Flower of Australian Youth joins forces with the R.A.F. Over two oceans they sail to fight for freedom.
