OFF-STAGE VOICE---CONSCRIPTION

1. Title: THE CONSCRIPTION DAY RUSH!
2. 'Tenshun! America musters her manpower in the first peacetime draft in U.S. history. More than 16 million rush 125,000 registration places--- nine million registering in eight hours. The speed to answer the call for Selective Military Service shows a United nation. Men 21 to 36 sign up---rich, poor, every color, kind, and creed answering the call.
12. In New York's Chinatown, interpreters face 55 different dialects, but every-thing goes smoothly.
15. And across the nation, from every walk of life, a million and a quarter an hour sign up.
20. Stars from Manhattan's rodeo take time off including movie actor Gene Autry.
22. Professional football players symbolize the thousands of athletes eligibile. And into the patriotic corral rides a lone cow-hand as democracy shows how it does work over here!

President Roosevelt's son John registers in Nahant, Massachusetts.....
29. Wendell Willkie's son is under age. In a coast-to-coast broadcast Willkie praises universal conscription, saying each man's registration is one more chance for freedom. The famous fish bowl is ready for new selection numbers, as it served in 1917 when 4 million men were called to the nation's service in a truly democratic army.
37. Soon the first quota will be called---probably less than 200,000 by mid-November because rising enlistments have reduced conscription quotas. But Uncle Sam's getting new homes ready for 800,000 to be called this year---or about one out of every twenty who registered. And a true cross section of American manhood will show the world it can learn the business of defense.
48. From the President comes a message to 16 million registered American men...
