ROOSEVELT FLASH.

The warship Tuscaloosa took President Roosevelt on his cruise in the Caribbean Sea. Safely embarked on the historic third term President Roosevelt has the enthusiastic support of his countrymen, in his Help Britain campaign.

His flag flew on the man-o'-war as the commander-in-chief came aboard. On this cruise he met the Duke of Windsor, and worked out a scheme for lending war materials to Britain, thus avoiding war loans. Roosevelt is on Britain's side.

TIGRESS FLASH

Two tigresses sharing a cage at an animal farm became mothers within two hours of each other. They had two cubs each and three survived.

The vet. found the babies in Al health and thinks they'll live. They're luck to be alive, because tigresses behind bars generally devour their young. The babies' grandfather wasn't eaten, but he only survived to be trodden on.

MOTOR-BOAT FLASH

America's experimenting with a motorboat for defence in shallow waters. It leap-frogs over obstacles.

At a pinch it can do a bit of stair climbing.

It's just the thing for landing on beaches, so when the time comes to take the war to Germany maybe we'll show Hitler how it can be done.
