Here's pleasing evidence that our womenfolk are mobilising en masse for the war-effort. Relaxing in the lunch hour, 600 girls at a Ministry of Supply ordnance factory have a community sing-song.

While those at lunch sing, those at work get on with making anti-tank guns. They're turning them out well ahead of schedule - a good example to the men.

Many a job once regarded as too skilled for them the girls now take in their stride.
