Present in the ranks of a crack Dominion regiment from Western Ontario, now training in Britain are several Americans - typical of the many hundreds who are serving in British forces. Hear the Canadian C.O.

"Our American boys are splendid soldiers. And it is my hope and expectation that many of them will in the future hold His Majesty's Commission as officers of this Regiment."

Manly chests swelled with pride in being in the van of liberty, and in the knowledge that the folks at home are proud they're here.

Yanks and Canadians swell the regimental sing-song.

CU Various soldiers: "I am from Wheelright, Kentucky. I believe in democracy and I'm going to fight for it."

(Dubbed in Foreign reels)

"I am from - Georgia. I joined up looking for excitement overseas. Huh! I'm getting it too."

"I'm from Jackson, Mississippi. I served in the American Army from 1935 to 1937 in Hawaii. I like to see all the boys over here."

"I live in Detroit and having served in the Canadian Army in the last war I figured I'd have a job to finish where we left off in 1918."
