6. Secretary Knox talks.

"As Secretary of the Navy, it naturally is on my heart to talk to you men of the Legion of that great service and of the progress we have made toward the building of a two-ocean navy.

For achievement of this purpose, awards have been made for the construction of 332 new combatant ships. The building of these vessels, which will cost about $6,000,000,000, added to what we already possess, will give us a combined sea strength of 32 battleships, 13 aircraft carriers, 91 min cruisers, 364 destroyers and 186 submarines, a total fleet of 691 vessels of war.

[Incomparably, this will be the greatest sea power with air power auxiliary ever created by any nation in the history of the world.]

"Beginning tomorrow [the American Navy will provide protection as adequate as we can make it for ships of every flag carrying lend-aid supplies between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland. The navy is ordered to capture or destroy by every means at their disposal, Axis-controlled submarines or surface. That is our answer to Mr. Hitler."
