Fight

In the fourth round the champion hit low. He followed ~~it~~ ^{up} with a blow to the jaw and Danahar went down. Referee Barrington Dalby had seen the low punch and severely cautioned Roderick.

Round Thirteen! Up after a count Danahar was again floored - all but knocked out.... Pulling out the last ounce of strength and pluck he struggled to his feet and weathered the storm.

Roderick was too tired to send his man down for the full count. But he was miles ahead on points.

.... So Ernie Roderick wins the Lonsdale Belt outright. Proceeds gave the R.A.F. Benevolent Fund £5000. A good afternoon allround.
