TITO'S PATRIOTS RETURN TO FIGHT FOR YUGOSLAVIA.

At their headquarters in Italy, student nurses of Marshal Tito's Yugoslavian armies parade before wounded Partisan soldiers recuperating from the battle for their homeland. In their struggle against the Nazis, these Yugoslav patriots have won some of the most amazing victories of the war. This thirteen-year-old youngster, wounded in action.....carried messages between Tito's armies.

Typical of their fighting spirit, these unconquered people bear ship to return to liberated areas of Yugoslavia and take up the fight for their country. This group goes to relieve brave Montenegrins, also members of Tito's army who have been sent here for rest.

Under their red-starred banner, Tito's troops continue the fight for Yugoslavia.
