ALLIES FEED AND CLOTHE REFUGEES FROM WAR ZONES.

Into a central collecting station in Naples pours a continuous stream of Italian civilian refugees from combat areas..... unfortunate victims of Nazi aggression.

The Allied Control Commission in Italy, handling a major military problem with every regard for humanity and decency, supplies food, clothing and medical aid for these helpless people.

Warm clothing and wholesome food. In Naples alone, fifty-five thousand Italian refugees have been helped to new health, new lives, by the Allies.
