In Stockholm was reached the agreement that considerably reduced the supply of ball -bearings to Germany. Stanton Griffis (left) representing the Federal Economic Administration, headed the U S delegation. He ~~is~~ was helped by Sir Victor Mallet British Minister to Sweden, Douglas Poteat of the ~~Lundborgs~~ ~~Bridge, and~~ ~~William Waring~~ US Board of Economic Warfare, and William Waring for the British Government. At the Soviet Embassey the Griffis deputation was assured that Russia would bring pressure to bear ~~if~~ necessary. In Sweden the Soviet government is represented by Ambassadress Kalontay, ~~who~~ ~~gave~~ much valuable help. As Sweden is a neutral country, on Germany's doorstep, the negotiators had to tread lightly. In this matter the allies owe much to the Stanton Griffis mission.
