

HITLER MYSTERY

published

Here are the last ~~newsreel~~ pictures of Hitler. They purport to show him, a day or so after the bomb attempt on his life, greeting Mussolini, who came to congratulate him on his escape. Hitler ^{is right hand} ~~shook hands with his left hand,~~ ~~his right~~ was supposed to be injured. On the scene also, was the sinister Himmler, who has since ~~been~~ ~~appointed~~, taken command in Germany. Whatever the true story of the attempt on ~~Hitler's~~ Hitler's life, these pictures were issued to convince Germans that the Fuhrer was still alive. Ribbentrop, on the right, looks twenty years older than when he was ^{last} seen on the screen. The certainty of defeat has ^{set} ~~its~~ its mark on the whole gang. Mussolini is like a man on the brink of death..

Here is, or is supposed to be, the room where the bomb went off. If it is, it is hard to see how Hitler can have escaped with nothing worse than a slight arm injury.

Badly burned and otherwise injured, and now in hospital are some of the soldiers and high officials, in conference when the bomb went off. Whatever the mystery behind Hitler, the Nazis have completely mis-managed their propaganda, for since showing the pictures a story has gone round that Hitler's double was killed, the Fuhrer himself not being there.

Leaving the hospital Hitler was ^{on} congratulated, ^{this time} ~~on his~~ ~~by~~ by several high ranking Nazis including ^{Goering, Goebbels and} ~~Reich~~ ~~Minister~~ ~~Funk~~ ~~and~~ Himmler. It is clear that in September, when these pictures were shown in Germany, the Nazi leaders were desperately anxious to prove that Hitler was alive.

Why have no pictures been taken since?

At the Tannenberg Memorial, burial place of Hindenburg, were celebrated the funeral ~~rites~~ rites of Hitler's own Staff Chief, General Korten, who was killed in the bomb attempt. Marshal Goering spoke the ~~funeral~~ funeral oration. Admiral Raeder and the many prominent soldiers saw the coffin borne away.

A true to type, rising thug of the Nazi party, Colonel Remer, inspected the Berlin garrison, ^{which} ~~Under his command~~ ~~these men~~ suppressed a military revolt at the time of ~~the bomb attempt~~ on Hitler's lap.

Remer told them they were now political soldiers, charged with the duty of protecting the State and the Nazi party by every conceivable means.

Himmler, meanwhile, calls into being the German Home Guard. In her extremity Germany calls upon old age and extreme youth to defend her soil. ~~The German Home Guard~~

~~to~~ All this at a time when we have disbanded our Home Guard, ~~and~~ ^{and} ~~the~~ Allied military power grows irresistible. The ~~German Home Guard~~ ^{Volksturm} cannot save an inch of German soil ~~from conquest and~~ ^{in east or west.}

~~humiliation.~~ In their hearts every man and woman, every disheartened and frightened soldier in Germany knows ~~that~~ the game is up.