

BELGRADE LIBERATED : FIRST PICTURES

The capital of Yugoslavia, modernised city of two hundred and fifty thousand people, went wild with joy when the forces of Soviet Russia and Marshal Tito's army of liberation, made their triumphal entry. For nearly ~~four years Belgrade suffered under the heel of the Germans. That release had at last come was almost unbelievable.~~

(LV cavalry) Yugoslavia claims to have been the most resistant of all the occupied countries. Her guerrilla forces grew into the formidable army of Marshal Tito. Appropriately in the hour of Belgrade's triumph that liberation army was inspected by its great leader. Yugoslavia's ^{day} ~~hour~~ of rejoicing was the climax of Russia's victorious campaign in southern Europe. Tito's men were naturally gratified that they had played a conspicuous part in the rout of the enemy.

~~Much water has flowed under the bridges of German humiliation since Hitler lost Belgrade. It will not be long before throughout Europe nothing remains of German oppression but a foul memory.~~

Much water has flowed under the bridges of German humiliation since Hitler lost Belgrade. It will not be long before throughout Europe nothing remains of German oppression but a foul memory.

28 28