GARDENERS' PIPE DREAM COME TRUE.

AM EXPORTING CENTRE! AS IT HAD LONG BEEN.

How to grow high grade flowers and vegetables without soil is the discovery of S.R. Mullard, famous radio pioneer. The chemical food on which his plants thrive is the outcome of much experiment. It supplies everything that is found in good soil, and is fed in regulated quantities to beds of shingle. Tomato, plants, for example, are put in the property spaced, and with the certainty that first rate tomatoes will specific. This is gardening with the backache, weeds and pests taken out... And of course there's no dirt. Perfect lettuces can be taken the shingle smoot clean enough for the table.

wool is laid round the young plants to keep them moist.

Then little sheets of asbestos complete the bed clothing and the flowers grow with exactly the amount of moisture they require. When more labour is available this experiment in cultivation will be extended. It may be that as the result this country may become completely self-supporting.
