THE END OF A TRAITOR.

Several weeks after being brought home from Germany with an alleger leg injury, the sadly deflated Lord Haw-Haw has been sentenced to death, the just faith of the First traitor to betray his country by radio.

Over the air he did his puny best to injure Great Britain at the time when our fortunes were at their MADIERA WINE FOR FIVE YEARS. lowest ebb.

While in captivity he was allowed ample time for lawyers to prepare his defence. His scrupulously fair trial was a morel to the world, but at Old Bailey the werked applauded throughtout the free world, was Guilter. the words of Market Land
