

PARLIAMENT RE-ASSEMBLES.

Faced with the biggest programme for many years Parliament met after the sixth-week recess. Rarely in times of peace has any Prime Minister faced greater difficulties than confront Mr. Attlee. Ernest Bevin appeared to be still weighed down by the recent failure of the Big 5 to agree. An early woman arrival was Mrs. Elizabeth Braddock, Member for Exchange, Liverpool.

Jim Griffiths, Minister for National Insurance.

Labour Minister George Isaacs has one of the most thankless jobs. Wing Commander Millington is the sole survivor of the Commonwealth Party. The distinction of being the tallest member of the House belongs to Captain Julian Snow. Mr. Dalton, Chancellor of the Exchequer. Enough said. Ellen Wilkinson is Minister of Education in the new Government. Lady Noel Buxton, Member for Norwich.

Eleanor

Miss ~~Rathbone~~ Rathbone, Pioneer of Family allowances.

And here comes W.J. Brown, Independent, Rugby. "Do you ~~are~~ think the proposed <sup>rates</sup> family allowances adequate?" X does think!

Now James Maxton. "What do you think of the present scale of old age pensions?" One of the younger school, Wing Commander Geoffrey. "Any future for ~~British~~ civil aviation?" in 7 - 7 - 7

Here's an ex-Minister R.S. Hudson. "What's the most pressing problem before the house?" And you Mr. Gallacher? What do you think is the biggest problem? Lastly, Tory Reformer, Quinton Hogg. Any future for the Ministry of Information?

What do you think of the proposed Nationalisation of the Bank of England?
