ROYAL BABY ENTERS BRAVE NEW WORLD.

King Peter of Yugo-Slavia and Queen Alexandria brought their infant son to be baptised in Westminster Abbey. It was a truly Royal ~~occasion~~ occasion, the christening of an heir to a throne.   After the arrival of the Duchess of Kent, King Peter welcomed ~~the members of our Royal~~ our ~~Royal~~ ~~Family.~~   King George and Princess Elizabeth are godparents of the new Crown Prince.

(Abbey) The baby was named Alexander after his ill-fated grandfather.   It is perhaps unlikely that he will ever ascend the throne of Yugo-Slavia. Since the assassination of King Alexander much has happened in the political arena.
The infant prince has entered a brave new world, in which airplanes can fly at 600 miles an hour, with plenty in reserve if they want to ~~much~~ hurry. A world which not so long back would have seemed fantastic, not to say crazy.
What would our grandparents have made of this jet driven Meteor, now preparing to set the world speed record.
~~They've~~ It's already topped the 600-mark and only awaits good weather to make the official bid.   Pressmen heard optimistic forecasts by Chief tester Greenwood (left) and Group Captain Wilson.
Radar will time the attempt ~~and~~ on the world record.   At 600-per hour tiny fractions of a second become inportant.

Cameramen have been on the coast for days filming trial flights.   In the brave new world we travel to New York in five hours - ten miles a minute.   The suburbanite's ten miles to the office still takes him an hour an a half, but what does science care about you and me?, ~~apart~~ ~~from blowing us up.~~

Wait a bit says America. Why not a flying fliver for everybody?   Many models are in the shop windows.

Every man ~~is~~ his own aviator looks like the rule from
