

A Show of Force.

* Once again from ~~the~~ Guildhall/come London's civic dignitaries, complete with Mace and a new Lord Mayor but minus golden coach and gorgeous trappings.

* The honours of the show went to the Grenadiers, the Royal Marines, the Buffs and other regiments privileged to march the City's streets with bayonets fixed.

* The Lord Mayor himself was quite content to play a minor role in the performance.

* Thanks to ~~the~~ new Lord Mayor, Sir Charles Davis, Londoners have had a foretaste of the Victory parade so long awaited.

* And now, after the show, comes another procession.

* It was'nt what we expected, but why should the City Health department take the blame for that.
