

3

Helping the ~~the~~ whole world on the hard road back, as on the road to victory, is General Eisenhower. Met by his wife on arrival at Boston airport. The former Supreme Commander was in America to give a Congress committee his views on National Military training. Despite ~~the~~ ~~and~~ a biting wind Boston gave him a worthy reception.

Probably as a result of this drive Mrs. Eisenhower caught pneumonia. Sympathy is world wide. ~~Her mother-in-law~~
~~was also ill.~~

Before the ~~House~~ Military Affairs Committee, in session to debate defence-training, raised by the recent Presidential message, General Eisenhower gave his testimony - in favour of maintaining efficient armed services.

Then a member of the committee asked ~~the~~ General ^{Eisenhower} ~~whether,~~ as soldier and diplomat, he thought there was any chance of achieving lasting world peace.

For one ~~American~~ ^{young} citizen the road back begins very early in life. Fourteen month old Michael Collins, flown four thousand five hundred miles to his ~~father's home~~ ^{new land}, was met by his grand ~~father~~ ^{parents}. The little chap's father, not yet demobbed, is still in England. His mother died last July. Baby Michael was a real Thanksgiving present to the old folks. The airline hostess accompanied them home from the airport.

So the most travelled baby in the town of Stillwater came to his new home. Everybody's sent a present. The world owes it to the motherless little mite that when he ~~grows up~~ ^{grows up} war will be no more than a memory of the bad old days.

5-2PFPEO

Title:
Pg:
Eff:
Meltzer
Connolly
Excl. - #23

November 13, 1945

1. TITLE: BYE-BYE, BABY --- BY AIR!
2. From London by air comes the flyaway baby -- 14-month-old Michael Shaun Collins, on his way to his grandparents' home in Minnesota -- 4500 miles away. Michael's dad is an American soldier still on duty in England. His English mother died last July. At Twin Cities Airport, his grandfolks see him for the first time....and Chief Airline Hostess Gerry Rudquist, turns the infant over to Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, with a log of very good behavior.
11. Home in Stillwater at last, the much-travelled Michael Shaun has a big surprise from his new-found family -- gifts galore, and from grandma a brand-new Victory Bond. America's so good to him, Mike feels as though he's lived here all his life.