

World in Film

27/4

Vienna:

Elementary School Teaches English

At an Elementary school in Vienna, the pupils of the first first class get their instruction in the English language.

Participation is voluntary, but the first results were so promising that all parents now send their children to this early schooling in English.

A

Acrobats on Tyres.

American hell-drivers, suppliers of film thrills, give a performance in Trenton, New Jersey, and show what they and their cars can stand.

Subsequent inspection shows that not a screw is loose... at least as far as the car is concerned.

B

Yes
Draw
1549.

NO