

GOLDEN GLOVES

Madison Square Garden, home of world championship fights, went amateur for one night only, to stage the famous Golden Gloves, the all-America finals. Heavyweight Chancey beat Manuel ^{Grana} ~~Grande~~ in the semi-final.

The Chancey met Savarese in the final and won that too.

The welter-weights set a faster pace. Nick Casuba (dark trunks) was too good for Nardizzy, but the loser was game to the end.

Down for the third time, AND the knock out.

Steckman
Lyon
Non
#52

February 20, 1946

1. TITLE: Golden Gloves - TOMORROW'S CHAMPS!
2. Madison Square Garden - In the world's most famous boxing ring- finals of the Golden Gloves, end of the rainbow for simon-pures! Joe Louis started as a Golden Glover. So did Barney Ross, and many other champions. Tonight, these kids have their fighting hearts set on fistic fame and fortune. And for our first fight Wade Chancey, in the white trunks, pours it on against Manuel Granda in the heavyweight semi-final. Chancey, 19-years old, is just back from touring the world's oceans as a merchant seaman.
8. That's all for Manuel!
9. Later, in the finals, young Chancey meets Vincent Savarese wearing dark trunks. Savarese outweighs him by 30 lbs. but the sailor goes right to work.
13. In the second round the boys slug it out in true Golden Glove style. That did it! Chancey is champ!
14. The 147-lb. championship bout! Frank Nardizzi, in white trunks, versus Nick Kashuba. Kashuba seems to concentrate on Nardizzi's mid-section. And it pays dividends! But Frank not through. These kids don't know how to quit!
21. There goes Frankies' mouthpiece, and, for the women, Frankie too.
23. But here we go again! This game kid is really hard to keep down!
26. But even a gamster can get too much of a good thing. And Nardizzi at last does get entirely too much of young Mr. Kashuba!
27. Yes, it's eight! nine! ten! and Out!