

BRITON WINS WORLD MAT CHAMPIONSHIP

Supporting ~~main~~ contest in the Harringay programme ^H which featured the world-heavyweight championship was the bout between Vic Coleman of England (he's wearing a knee bandage) and Mollet of France. This was for the middle-weight championship of Europe, and in these wrestling orgies even middleweights can groan and grunt as convincingly as the ^{big} ~~heavy~~ men. — — — —

As the fight warmed up the crowd did the same, despite the freezing temperature, and it was fun for all.

Mollet won. Now for something really big. The world heavyweight championship. Bert Assirati, British titleholder, versus Martenson, champion of Europe.

Having knocked his man down, Martenson looked for another opening, and by gosh he found it!
