

PORT ELIZABETH WELCOMES ROYAL FAMILY

Five thousand children were in the great throng that cheered the King, Queen and Princesses, arriving at St. George's Park, Port Elizabeth. The royal visitors were received by the Lord Mayor and everybody waited expectantly for the presentation of bouquets by some small, and very dark, subjects of the Crown.

Everybody visiting Port Elizabeth is taken to the famous snake park at New Brighton. Quite affectionate creatures when they don't dislike you. ~~The snakes are, they always are.~~

The Snake Park prides itself on the fact that all its reptiles have been left with their poison fangs intact.

Finally New Brighton entertained the royal tourists with a display of native dancing; the authentic Africa.
