

KING'S SPEECH IN BASUTOLAND

Applause for King

[Paramount Chief. Chief and people of Basutoland.
I greet you.] It gives the Queen and me great pleasure to be with you today. I thank you all for the loyal welcome you have given us and the Princesses. We only regret that time does not allow us to see more of your beautiful country and its people. (Lens change)? ... loyalty to the Crown.
It is indeed fortunate that we should have been able to visit you on the blessed (?) day, the day which commemorates the adoption (?) of Basutoland by the British Crown. (camera step

During the recent war you came to my assistance when I was beset by many and powerful enemies. [I thank your soldiers for their services and sacrifices and for their help in that time of great danger. I thank you also for the help you also rendered in so many directions during that difficult time.
