

WHAT A COW!

response
Introducing Bridge Birch, Hampshire's answer to the White Paper, an example to us all. Talk about raising the output! This Friesian cow has beaten all British records, yielding fifteen-and-a-half gallons in 24 hours. The pride of Moortown Farm has to be milked four times a day. If every other cow followed suit we should have to export milk or else swim in it.

(carry 2) Bridge Birch's afternoon contribution weighed sixty pounds, 7 nearly broke to water. ~~that is, four gallons.~~ The record day of fifteen-and-a-half gallons means 124 pint bottles.... It makes the average cow's five gallons look very small milk.

Now, Bridge Birch, what does the Cud-Chewers' Union say about your output?

Ah! Ferocious cows! I want Oi put on a Fine Day Week.
