SCENE NUMBER	COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF SCENES.
	A Mallard (Duck to you) landed on the roof of Canada House and laid her eggs in one of the flower boxes. Hatching takes 28 days. This morning they hatched out. Four chicks were good; one was ill & week and died & three did not hatch out but had died in the shell. However it was considered a good effort for a hatching in such a position.

G.V. from the very top roof of Canada House, and Canada House from Trafalgar Square showing the usual birds that frequent the Square. Also scenes of other birds on St James Park.

A St James Park keeper and the lift han from Canada House who has been feeding the mallard all along are seen putting the birds in a

They were then released in the Horse Guards Parade and are seen walking to the lake in the park.

There was an Evening News and Sunday Express reporthers there, & their photographers.

Sorry I didnt get a Policeman holding up traffic but the bird was too frightened.
