

NAZIS INTO PARSONS

Chartres
The father Superior at ~~Chartres~~ Cathedral bade farewell to 400 German prisoners he has trained for the Catholic priesthood. Now ordained, they're going home to Germany. They were theological students before the war <sup>and</sup> from scores of prison camps ~~they~~ were brought to the college at Chartres to ~~resume~~ and complete their studies.
The father Superior ~~blessed~~ <sup>gave us a blessing</sup> ~~them~~ before they left.

So to the Germany, which turned its back on Christianity, suffered dire consequences and all-but wrecked civilisation, the young priests are returning. The Church acted wisely in training them. One Pastor Niemöller ~~cannot~~ <sup>could</sup> avail nothing against the Nazis; a few thousand might have prevented the war. May these young apostles build Germany anew.
