

PARIS HOLDS PREFAB HOUSE EXHIBITION

A building exhibition mainly given over to prefabs has been sponsored by the French Ministry of Reconstruction. All the best types manufactured in Europe are represented. In Normandie and other areas of France devastated by the war many thousands of prefabricated houses have been put up. ~~up~~ Many thousands more are ~~still~~ wanted. The French soon make them an attractive part of the landscape.

Aluminium houses drew much attention. The modern kitchen arrangements were ~~much~~ ^{greatly} admired. Although prefabs have not been all that was expected of them they may still be the solution to housing problems in many areas.
