COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF SCENES.

The first part of these news cuttings XX is journalese at its worst -the suggestion that the parent seal is swimming up and down barking for its baby is just fantastic and the second part about putting it back into the sea to rejoin its parents is just sheer balderdash because the baby is still in the 'breast' feeding stage and has never learned to hunt for itself and so would starve if it was not killed by the other seals because of its human 'taint'. Anyway, I made the story that although it was put into the sea it did not want to swim away but on the contrary very much wanted to get back to its foster mother -Mrs. Dennis- who feeds it on Glaxo type of food and cod liver oil.

1. The seal in the improvised pool made by Inspector Dennis in the garden, panning to Mr. Mrs. Dennis & daughter with the feeding bottle.
2. Various close ups of the seal feeding from the bottle
3. Inspector Dennis with the seal in his arms carrying it out the car. Walking shots and general putting it into the car
4. Close of it into the car.
5. Car driving away en route to the sea -at Bawdsey
6. At Bawdsey- general of the sea shore panning to Mr. & Mrs. Dennis bringing the seal & putting it down on the beach.
7. Close ups of it waddling to the sea
8. The seal goes into the sea & swims around
9. Coming out again to Mrs. Dennis - and the bottle
10. Close of Mrs. Dennis & seal
11. Close of the three.

Note. To date, Mr. & Mrs. Dennis have been looking after it for 10 days and it has already grown 4 to 6 inches. It is about 7 weeks old and if they can rear it they will have done more than the Zoo has because they have never been able to rear one.
