VEGETABLE PRICE REBELLION.

From all parts of the country comes news of the union of housewives and farmers in mass-rebellion against the Vegetable racket. At prices set by the customers and agreed by the growers, the alliance shows what fair dealing can do. How it all started is told by Sussex farmer, Douglas Trim.

And from the look of it they haven't failed!

Sc 17 (travel shot)

With the aid of a generous Croydon store-proprietor, the scheme goes into operation; and to these men and Croydon housewives goes the credit for the overdue revival of something Britons always asked.. and gave..
