SO FAREWELL MY LADS -- !

Sc 1

In Bombay (it would be Bombay!) the time-expired men
(of whom we've sung so often,) hear Lord Mountbatten bid them farewell. It's not quite the way they expected it; for they are the first to return of a time-expired garrison;
which has held its post with honour for almost two hundred years.

Sc 13

They didn't expect to leave the old Commander-in-Chief behind, either,.... but he's got his promotion!.. So, even if the old song wasn't right about that... Well, there isn't any doubt about where the transport's going!
It's bound for old Blighty's shore!
