

FLASHES:

A mysterious explosion shattered the excursion steamer Island Queen shortly after she tied up at the Pittsburg waterfront. There were no passengers on board but twenty-one of the crew were killed, sixteen injured. Only five of the bodies were recovered before the vessel sank in twenty feet of water. A second explosion quickly followed the first. ⁷ Riverside property was badly damaged. Official investigation has begun.
