

ATTLEE WEDDING

There was a wedding at Ellesborough too. Here the bride was the Prime Minister's daughter Janet Attlee. Several cabinet ministers were among the guests, ~~and there was a special cheer for Mrs. Churchill,~~ ^{and} attending with two of her daughters, Mrs. Ch got a special cheer.

Mr. Aneurhan Bevan was followed into the church by Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Alexander, ~~then~~ came Mrs. Attlee and other members of the family.

~~On the arm of the Prime Minister the bride~~

On the arm of the Prime Minister came the bride, motoring over from nearby Chequers. For the time being political affairs took a back seat.

(church)

The bridegroom is Mr. Harold Shipton, a brilliant electronic scientist. Well-wishers showered the happy pair with confetti, and the whole nation joins in wishing ^{them} all happiness.

It is a love match.
