For item two of his fight-a-month campaign, Randolph Turpin took on the tough South African, Duggie Miller.

Jack Solomons had a night off as a spectator, satisfied with Turpin's form. Another ringside expert, Jimmy Wild, looked on but said nothing. In the ~~10th~~ 10th round Turpin was streets ahead on points but the South African was still on his feet. But not for long. Turpin put him down for a count of eight. ~~Turpin attacked again and again Miller went down.....~~

Turpin attacked again and again Miller went down..... He was up at eight. Then the bell went and the fight was over, Turpin the winner.

JOHNNY WILLIAMS KNOCKED OUT!

But Britain's heavy-weight champ, Johnny Williams, created sensation at Dortmund, getting put down for the count by the beefy German and European title-holder, Heinz Neuhaus.

Johnny was well ahead but in the ~~10th~~ 9th round he ran smack into a right-swing sucker-punch he never saw, and that was that.... He got up but hardly knew where he was. Neuhaus was the winner.
