

SPRING BRINGS OUT FASHIONS

Spain is the latest country to show France that Paris hasn't got the fashion world to itself nowadays. A coutourier in Madrid created this ~~tunic frock~~ ~~in a classic style~~, cut on Grecian (classic) lines. Next a lovely dress in white satin.

Now a gown of white lace and tulle with plaited spangles. Paris (apparently) has got to look to its laurels.

Well, the French capital isn't worried. Drawing inspiration from tulips, lilac and arum lilies a leading coiffeur submits a few hair styles to welcome the spring and hint at summer. Very effective, even if the flowers wouldn't recognise ^{g/in} the translation.

With Easter daily getting nearer no excuse is wanted for thinking of a new hat. The season's offerings claim to have been suggested by the bad lads of Montmatre, the apaches.

To prove that fashion goes in cycles the fair maids of Florida showed that a girl can always look her best, even on two wheels.

There were no men around when the girls first came out. You should have seen the place a few minutes later.

10*22 Spring Hats: The cap for different moods, sometimes disturbed, sometimes pleasant, can be changed, if the megot (can't find what this word is; perhaps we can see from the picture) takes the place of the cigarette, or the other way round.

✓ "Menimmontant² is the name of another hat; no particulars given.

✓ "Belle cycliste" (pretty cyclist) the name of another, suggesting the year 1900.

✓ "Accordéon" makes madame want to dance with joy.

Hatsmann Hair styles for spring derive inspiration this year from flowers - an age-old idea revived. Black tulips, white lilac and arum lilies are the flowers chosen to go with the new styles.

Short hair from the middle to the top of the head, sometimes swept up from the back, is the principle of these hair styles which are designed in the middle of the winter to turn wimen's thoughts to spring and summer.
