

2
JETS FIT NEW ROCKET FIRERS

400-mile-an-hour Sabre Jets went up to start a new chapter in air-to-ground warfare - rockets fired in volleys of 24, hurtling to the target at 2,000 miles-an-hour, each one powerful as a 3-inch shell.

(nxt) Old planes were used as ground targets - and were they hit!

38