

✓ LONDON GETS CORONATION NEW LOOK

As the great day nears the Coronation route takes on a festive appearance such as perhaps London never knew before. The great archways are going up in the Mall, that highway which has seen so many stately processions in the past.

20

~~Stands line the Mall for the many thousands who will cheer~~

Stands line the Mall for the many thousands who will cheer ~~society~~ Queen Elizabeth II. In Piccadilly Circus Eros, 40

so oftend banished for his own safety, now has a gilded cage. ~~Hundreds of families~~ London landmarks look gaily different. The big stores in Oxford Street vie with each other in decoration; ^{scene} one, the Queen seated on the horse she rode ~~the~~ Trooping the Colour. Regent Street will hardly know itself in a few days time.

60

(Palace) Arriving at the Queen's invitation, at the ~~Royal~~ Albert Docks, were the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, world-famous as the Mounties. They rode through the City to their quarters in Hyde Park. They will be a popular and colourful section of the Canadian Contingent in the Coronation procession.