

BRITISH TRIUMPH AT LE MANS

Dash to the driving seat to be first away - that's ⁹ the ~~minimum~~ _L starting drill at Le Mans, ever since the 24-hour sports-car endurance Grand Prix was first run. Long ago Le Mans captured the imagination of the racing public. To win it puts driver and manufacturer on top of the motoring world for the next 12 mths. The cars race day and night for biggest milage and top speed. Hoping to make it a British occasion were the Jaguar team; here 's Duncan Hamilton and Tony Rolt's car. ^{near} ~~Just before~~ dark the ^{Jags} ~~Jags~~ were well placed and with all the other survivors they hurtled on through the night.

crack cars the Spectators woke next morning to the roar of the/tireless drivers drove on. It was a British triumph recalling the great days of the Bentleys. ~~Substantially~~ first; 2,540 miles at 105.4 m.p.h. Another Jag second, another fourth. Bravo, Rolt and Hamilton.
