The Herald Blundered

A STRUGGLING rioter is half-dragged, half-carried away by East Berlin police.

This picture was published yesterday by the Daily Herald, which alleged that it showed East Berlin police fighting with rioters. Anyone with the slightest knowledge of Berlin, however, knows that East Berlin police wear flat caps. Only the West German and West Berlin police have the distinctive helmet which these policemen are wearing.
