Admiring crowd burst through Safdar Jang Airport barriers and a police cordon to welcome Sir John Hunt, Tenzing and Edmund Hillary on their arrival in New Delhi on Sunday. Wild clapping of hands and ecstatic shouts which greeted the everest expedition members as they alighted from the plane which brought them from Calcutta, were followed by a stampede by the crowds that had thronged the airstation since early afternoon to catch a fleeting glimpse of Tenzing and Hillary.

Sir John Hunt held aloft the historic ice-axe with which Sir Edmund and Tenzing had hacked their way upto the summit of the Mount Everest. To the axe was tied the Indian Tricolour which Tenzing had secretly carried to the top of the highest mountain in the world to waive it their with the flags of the United Nations, Jinted Kingdom and Nepal.

On Monday morning The Everest Climbers were welcomed by the Delhi City Corporation where after an address of Welcome the Heroes were presented with replicas of ~~XXXX~~ Mount Everest (in silver) and Ashoka's Pillar which is the official insignia of the Government of India. On arrival the Everest climbers were garlanded by the President of the corporation. After receiving the welcome address, the leader addressed the gathering and it was amusing and surprise for the public when suddenly after English, Sir Hunt switched on to Hindustani (Indian language) Sir Hunt was Followed by Tenzing and Hillary spoke in the end.
