

KOREA TALKS PEACE, FIGHTS, ~~WAR~~

Negotiations at Panmunjom between the United Nations and the enemy ~~don't stop~~ ^{in steps} the war ^{5 → price taken,} even though peace ~~may~~ ^{might} come at any moment. UNO forces regrouped on the central front to hold the biggest Chinese offensive yet made. It seems tragic that with the armistice just round the corner
the Communists should not ^{no} be content to hold fast on their ~~present~~ ^{present} positions. What sense in adding to the cost of war at ~~this~~ ^{it} time? The cost in money, and above all in human life?

Men ^e ~~are~~ being wounded, some maimed for life, when only details remain ^d to be sorted out at Panmunjom. Weary of the senseless continuing of the fight ^e ~~are~~ all ranks on the United Nations side. The whole Korean war is one of the blackest pages of the Communist record.

Apr. 3, 1953

~~21315~~

Music: War Preparations PN29
Prelude CL352
(Both Wake Island)

Klein
Joyce
Non
Issue #66

KOREA NEW FILMS OF FIGHTING ON WESTERN FRONT

Mud — the Spring thaws bring oceans of the gooey stuff in Korea — another enemy, underfoot — in the midst of fighting, even as the truce-conference showed signs of resumption. Films just in from the "Old Baldy" sector; a hill bitterly contested for — a hill pulverized by Air Force jets and Marine Corsairs. With the U.S. First Marine Division at Vegas and Reno — outposts made familiar to us through the daily communiques. Here Leatherneck courage again was displayed. Six times in three days Vegas changed hands! Air support brought a weird display of pyrotechnics! The Korean front, as hope for an armistice was in every Easter prayer.

LIB