

BULL FLASH

Down in Bayonne, near the Pyrenees, the French staged a bullfight that was really sporting. The bull had the freedom of the square - and did he make use of it!

Every man a matador. There 's safety in numbers; the bull doesn't know who to ~~summan~~ go for.

Look, there's a car there! Put your horns through the radiator. It's only insured third party.... Don't mind that mattress; it 's full of straw.

Paula Jean Myers in the Los Angeles./ American Diving Championship.

Olympic Champion Pat McCormick. Ten time National Champion too. Slow motion shows how simple it is; or would be if you could fall in slow motion.

Now Paula goes in again. You have to try two or three times before you can do this one.

So for the third time this year Paula beat her friend Pat and is American champ.

Into Ballater station ran the royal train. Her Majesty, with her two little children, was welcomed by the Marquess of Aberdeen - Lord Lieut. of his country, the Provost of Ballater and others of note up there. Observing Royal Family ~~manners~~ custom the Queen is taking her main holiday at Balmoral, a few weeks' rest after the stress ~~and~~ of Coronation year.

The Guard of Honour was mounted by the 1st Batt. Argyll & Suth. Highldrs. The Duke of Edinburgh went to Balmoral later, after sailing in the Cowes regatta. If ever anyone deserved a holiday it is the Queen this year. May she enjoy a very happy one.
