

The Shah of Persia drove to Rome Airport, Queen Soraya and his sister seeing him off. When he arrived in Rome only a few days before it seemed that his throne was tottering. Now it is Mossadeq who is out of a job, the Shah being back at Teheran. Even the young ruler himself is too wise to prophesy about Persian politics, but he, like his friends in the western world, must hope that this is the end of the Mossadeq era, which has brought Persia to the brink of ruin. May the oil the world needs start flowing gn.

Seoule, capital of Southern Korea, was en fete for the celebration of Independence Day. The U.S. Ambassador and Mrs. Briggs were with Pres. Syngman Rhee at the saluting base, as crack troops of the Republic of Korea marched past.... ~~May the peace may soon follow the~~ That peace may soon follow the armistice is the wish of the West.