

CHILDRENS ART SHOW: ROYAL ACADEMY NEXT STOP!

The National Exhibition of Children's Art - an annual affair now - is drawing a lot of people to Piccadilly.

Appropriately Piccadilly Circus is a subject in one of the Organised paintings. ~~Organised~~ by the Sunday Pictorial the show 25 is revealing rising artistic talent all over the country. David Graham's idea of the Queen's Coach.

~~Myself at the bus stop, by Beryl Wand (12), and what~~

Myself at the bus stop, by Beryl Wand (12), and what made the bus stop.

Frank Collins, a juvenile sculptor of Shoreditch, looked at an abstract study and gave it best.

~~Myself at the bus stop, by Beryl Wand (12), and what~~

(5to7) The subject of the ~~Coronation Coach~~ Coronation Coach attracted another artist, Sheila Marmon, aged six.

Romance / pictorial and real.

The Everest Expedition, by Raymond Turner.

Mummy and Daddy, as seen by Barie Joanes when five.

The top prize, an art scholarship worth £250, went to the ^{drawer} ~~winner~~ Deserted Garden, a charcoal study by Anne Vane-Wright.