NEVILLE DUKE'S RECORD

In the cockpit of the Hawker Hunter at Tangmere, Neville Duke prepared to take off to put the income world's speed record beyond doubt. Officials at the electric timing controls were warned he was on the way.

Hurry up, chaps, this is the jet age. Required now were four runs, two each way, over the 3 kilometre course near Littlehampton. Duke touched 716 on the first run.

On the return 738

So far so good. Now trun at 716 ...

On the last run Duke touched 738

Back over Tangmere the world's fastest flier made a victory roll, showing he had no doubt about it.

442 (149)

The average speed was announced later as 72766 m.p.h.,
29 faster than the confirmed record set last November.
His most ardent admirer gave him extra special congratulations,
then said, let's do something slower, come to a cocktail party.

SHE ENID IN HAVE NO FEAR OF ANYTHING. THERE IS NOTHING AT

MY OWN SAFETY, AND I WANTED TO SET HOLD OF IT TO SEE IF THERE WAS ANYTHING DANGEROUS IN IT. UPTER SOME PERSUASION

"AFTER PICKING UP THE HANDBAC, I LOOKED AT IT AND

AGAIN HIS EVIDENCE BROKE OFF AS HE BURST INTO TEARS AND FOR

ADD MERRIFIELDS.

IT. I WEVER INTERPERED WITH IT IN MMY SHAPE OR FORM.

RESTA MERRIFIELD WENT ON TO TELL HOW HE WENT FOR A TAXI

TI. IS AM. ADD MERRIFIELDS

HE SAID HE DID NOT HOED WITH HIS WERE TAKING THE POLICIES OU ALTHOUGH THERE WAS NO SERIOUS TROUBLE BETWEEN THEM OVER THE POLICIES ON THEM OVER THE POLICIES. HE HAD SAID THAT IF HE GOT HIS HANDS ON THEM HE WOUTD SERIOT THAT IN A CONVERSATION AT THE BUNG OUT HE HE ASKED HER WHERE IT WAS.

"WETER SOME CONSIDERABLE TIME SHE TOLD ME WHERE IT WAS BUT

220

92