

Madrid football stadium was crowded. General Franco in the shirt and uniform of a Falangist headed the 20th anniversary celebration of the forming of the party. In the Spanish Civil War Franco turned ~~the party~~^{it} into the Government of Spain. From all over the country Falangists came ~~thousands upon thousands~~ for the triumphal march through the capital.

Outside Party Headquarters another demonstration cheered the Secretary-General and his colleagues. It was a big day for all concerned.

A ~~monster~~ from ~~20,000~~^{unpeter} fathoms, ~~more or less~~, was among aids enlisted by Sheffield students trying to extract nearly 7,000-pounds from their hard-headed townsfolk.

Though this sort of thing happens every year Sheffield takes it in good part. Even ~~the~~ Lord Mayor ^{Olive} Holmes gave his official ~~and~~ blessing.

The students gave the rag an original twist by giving a show on the water. ~~They make Sheffield look like Venice, if you looked at it from the water. The people were seen to be into their money. They would not be allowed to.~~

They
~~Students~~ went on into the night before they called it a day. These young chaps could collect money for income-tax if they felt so inclined.

The Tank Corps gave a demonstration at Bovington, Dorset. A Centurion very nearly stood all its 49-tons on one end before coming down. The crew of four have to take the rough with the smooth. Where the smooth is they haven't found out. The Comet is a 33-tonner with a 77 mm gun, crew of five and maximum speed of 32-miles-an-hour.

Over the water jump the Comet was in Grand National form.... They had to take the cameraman to the ^{dry}/cleaners. Again the Comet, after apologising for the splash. The 28-ton Cromwell, practically airborne.
