COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF SCENES

GV Two Models meeting in Park Bonfire Behind then into CU's of the four smog masks.

More detailed dope is following byn post.

The smog masks were not much good but the people who put on the show were extremely kind and helpful.

Owing to the large crowd which collected and the impending rain the models could not muster up the right spirit to roll their eyes or wink etc;etc;

Exclusive.Except for still boys.

Various shots of the model showing how fog forms around a city.

Their explanation...Fog conditions, when the ground cools more quickly than the air above, the smoke laden cold air, cannot rise or get away...the C.U. of hand shows the temperature being changed.

Quite a length on a still picture, that may be useful for the library...also the aera shewn around Westminster wherein 2000 tons of soot etc fall on the aera shewn..

C.U. of poster re hte exhibition at Victoria..

COMPLETE DESCRIPTION OF SCENES

Have shown a lab sequence, to show that scientific means are being used, to find out the facts & figures of smog. The material shot is in three different locations..

Labs...domestic fireplaces...industrial... In the Labs...Gen view...C.U. of daily smoke filter, this also has an attachment for measuring sulphide dioxide.. An automatic recorder, with Labs man back to camera... Smoke filters in line with last December's record being placed in centre...map of England, showing the authorities making observation etc.. graph showing the rise in deaths.. Deposit gauge, water deposits in large jars...lead peroxide gauge for the measuring sulphur dioxide and replacing cylinder

Domestic stoves,, First comes the old fashioned type showing plenty of smoke, of which, millions are still in use in this country, then two types of the modern stove, being tested for efficiency, electric gauges...note, the country can only supply about one sixth of the smokeless fuel required.

Industrial a hand fired Lancashire Boiler, the left hand door designed by this station and the one on the right, as supplied by the makers, afterwards outside the furnace showing the stack and the smoke...the good door was shot first.. This door or design was designed during the war for conveys for concealing smoke at sea and over a thousand was fitted.

Attached is a booklet which they would like returned. The above being a Government dept, are a little nervous as to what our commentary might be or say, so any technical points give Mr Atkins a phone call
