BEATEN AT LAST HUNGARY BEAT ENGLAND

RAYMOND LAMBERT

The red-shirted Olympic Champions, Hungary, came on to the field at Wembley confident of breaking the oldest of all soccer records by beating England on English soil. The Earl of Athlone greated them and then Hidegkuti kicked off. All the football writers said England would win and it took Hungary best part of a minute-and-a-half to show that they might be wrong. Puskas and Budai bewildered the defence, slipped the white ball to Hidegkuti. The centre-forward beat Merrick from 16-yards out. LAST SUNDAY NIGHT What a start! But a goal down inside two minutes might happen to anybody, so England were not unsettled yet awhile. li players they Centre-half Johnston the best Continental passed to Mortensen. The centre-forward found Sewell and the spectators leapt for joy when the Sheffield Wednesday

Hungary now had an inspired spell. From a melee in the Them English goal-mouth Hidegkuti gave the lead again. Merrick knew by this time he was up against AL sharpshooters. The man to beat him now was Hungary's captain, Puskas. (Two minutes later goalkeeper Grosics was jumping for joy again; Puskas had scored goal number four.

This was the period when defeat might have been averted if England could have pulled out a big extra effort and had a lot of luck. As it was they only managed to keep Hungary out until the interval. They couldn't score again themselves.

It was a deeply concerned England, walking off at halftime. Matthews said afterwards he thought victory was still possible, but when play was resumed hopes that the Hungarians were tiring soon vanished... After 7-minutes play centre-half Bozsik shot a great goal from 25-yards.

No wonder they nearly held a Christmas party in the Hungarian goal, 5-2 was surely a winning lead. 3-minutes later Hidegkuti made it 6-2.
